Come on in - Enhancing student engagement

Who has not stood in their teaching session, facing more empty seats than there should be?

Who has not stood in their teaching session, facing silence as soon as a discussion is opened?

And who has wondered what to do about it, how to make sessions more engaging?

Well, let us explore the complex context of enhancing student engagement.

We will cover key impact factors on student engagement as well as suitable approaches to enhancement, and will have sufficient time for discussion.

Come on in.....
